A Visit With Dr. John

I spent a little while at the children's camp yesterday. There were so many caring, dedicated leaders there. The children were involved in several kinds of fun activities and in Bible study. Seeing what was going on was a glowing report for the camp.

The children's committee has been responsible for this camp for the past few years. I doubt that you could imagine how much time and effort they put into preparing for this camp. They also reach out to other dedicated people to help. Thanks to Tim Bradley, Lester and Vicky Rachel, Denice Tipton, and all other workers.

I spoke with one pastor who was there with the children of his church. It was his first camp experience there. He said he didn't believe there would be a better camp in the United States. That's quite a testimonial!

The youth camp begins July 19. We have some excellent leaders preparing to lead the youth. I'm praying that our church leaders will see the value in providing these kinds of experiences for kids.

Sammy Gilbreath, Director of Evangelism for our state convention, will be leading the worship service there Tuesday night, July 21. We anticipate this will be a tremendous opportunity for young people to be challenged with the gospel. We are asking for youth groups, families, individuals, or churches to share this service. Do let us know if you intend to come.

I'm thankful for the churches who have responded or are responding to the call to receive an offering to pay for the new property at the Vineyard. I am very encouraged. Sometimes people do more than you could expect! If the churches give more than is needed ($161,000), we will apply the remainder of the offering to the debt for Snead Lodge.

The mission trip to South West Alabama was a good one. Several of the people to whom they ministered made professions of faith in Jesus. Our folk worked at the International Seaman's Center, and Native American Churches, and with some inner city children. Thanks to all who took part!
