A Visit With Dr. Granger

The association has quite a few good things coming up in the next couple of months: Men's Ministry Training and events, Senior Adult Luncheon, Samford Extension, Widows meeting, Inter-Baptist Luncheon, and Ministers' Meetings.

A couple of these events need more of an extra push. The Deacon Training event on January 26 promises to be a very good one. Let me encourage every deacon and spouse to attend. I believe you will be blessed and share in some good fellowship and a great meal. Training time is only an hour and a half. Every Deacon should be willing to give at least that much time a year for training, since the position of Deacon is such an important and crucial one in Southern Baptist life. Call our office to reserve your place. There is no charge, but we need to know numbers for those who prepare food.

The same committee has scheduled a Marriage Emphasis at the Enterprise Civic Center on February 9. The theme is "You Matter." Dr. Sam has done some tremendous things in his ministry and with the couples at Basin Church. I believe this committee will have a wonderful program and a great meal. I have been on a few of the planning meetings and am excited that our association is offering such a needed event. Even if your marriage does not need strengthening, come and support others who do. This, too, needs your reservation called in to 894- 6411.

Rev. Dave Melton, Minister of Music and Youth at Westside in Elba sustained life-threatening injuries in an automobile accident around Thanksgiving. He is still hospitalized. If your church would like to help Bro. Dave's family, please send donations to : Westside Baptist Church
